Greetings!

Welcome to WRAE's offerings for our Winter/Spring 2026 season. We've got some wonderful opportunities here - let's connect! It looks like Line Dancing has officially become available on two nights of the week - a perfect example of "you asked for it" and "we made it happen" for you! Our connection with the Finance Authority of Maine has brought many free sessions to help you plan and prepare for success in college and life. Check them out on page 6! Professional Online Certificates remain very popular and provide excellent instruction - new topics include: Artificial Intelligence, Bookkeeping for Nonprofits, Tableau and more.

We've got a whole series of Zoom-based Digital Photography subjects (did you notice Kiki, our cover model?) with topics ranging from portraits of humans and pets, nature photography, smartphone photography and a lighthouse trip! The crafting/art section is overflowing with wonderful new projects - and TWO, yes, TWO nights of Pottery! Don't miss out on DAYTIME Watercolor Painting with Patrick Corey. We'd love to bring you more daytime offerings... the challenge is space, but it's a continual search for a solution!

There are trips, and retreats and some wonderful online specials - don't let winter weather stop you, take it when you want! Check out the Culinary Crafting pages - so many great classes! Oh! And don't miss Tap Dancing with RSU 14's very own Jenny Butler - fun and great exercise right there.

Come connect and enrich your life with WRAE! We're here for you!

Our very best to you,
Sue Garvin Colley, WRAE Enrichment Program and Marketing Coordinator

Practical Investment Tools and Strategies Seminar

Nicholas Bizier

Ready to Take Charge of Your Money? Join us for a fun, down-to-earth seminar that'll help you make sense of investing, no finance degree required! By the end, you'll have a solid understanding of today's most common investment options and the know-how to make confident money moves.

Week 1: Get started with the basics: retirement accounts, education savings accounts, brokerage accounts, and the different platforms you can use. We'll also talk about how to spot (and avoid!) common scams and sneaky pitfalls.

Week 2: Take it up a notch with mutual funds, ETFs, life cycle funds, indexes, bonds, and cash investments.

Week 3: Wrap it up with stock investing, understanding the market through fundamental and technical analysis, and learning about real estate investment trusts (REITs). Of course, we'll keep calling out the red flags and scams to watch for along the way.

Come curious and leave confident; it's time to make your money work for you!

Preparing for Local Adventures

Hiking 101
Brad Rounds

Start from ground zero or learn more about hiking. It doesn't have to be Washington, it just needs to be safe, enjoyable, and can be local. Beyond the immediate area there are several hundred miles of trails of varying degrees of difficulty and distance in Southern Maine and nearby New Hampshire. This program provides four-season information (including a bit on snowshoeing). Topics include methods, types of trails, reducing risk, tools of the trade such as packs and trekking poles, clothing, trail marking, guides, weather, getting lost, stream crossing, sections on four-footed companions, hiking with children, and hiking for seniors. It closes with a thought challenge. Class is entirely indoors.
Thursday, 4/9; 5:15-8:45 pm; WRAE; $28

Map & Compass 101
Brad Rounds

Increase your confidence in the woods and learn how to navigate without batteries. This workshop teaches use of maps to obtain distance, direction, and detail information and how to use an orienteering compass. Also learn how to use map and compass together. If you have a preferred base-plate style compass, bring it, but loaners are available. It's a combination indoor/outdoor session.
Thursday, 4/30; 5:30-8:15 pm; WRAE $24

On Your Own - Surviving the Night
Brad Rounds

This workshop teaches basic steps to help when you're more than a bit "turned around" in the forest, or just plain stuck for one reason or another. How we get into trouble, minimal survival gear, handling being lost, survival priorities, the "evil three", improving your situation, shelters, signaling, and fire-starting. Combined indoor and outdoor (fire starting weather permitting) session.

We are Changing Everything!! - and it's a good thing!

WRAE, Windham Raymond Adult Ed – and in fact, all of the members of the Maine Adult Education Association – have undergone a powerful and impactful change over the summer of 2025. And it's going to change everything about registering and online connection for all of us! Keep reading, you'll want to take some action steps at the end of this message.

We've upgraded our registration system from CourseStorm to ACTIVE. This new system is designed to make it easier for you to register, manage your registrations, make payments and stay connected with WRAE. ACTIVE is used by thousands of organizations to connect people to events and communities. We are looking forward to the ways in which ACTIVE will simplify things for WRAE and for you!

There are two slightly different nuances to ACTIVE: your online account (the history of your specific online registrations) and your online registration. To make it make sense, you must create an online account in order to register online for classes with WRAE, but you'll do that while you register! See page 30 for step-by-step instructions!!

Ferment This! Kombucha
Emma Holder

You could buy a $4 bottle of kombucha, or you could make your own for pennies. It's simply sweetened black or green tea with a culture added. We'll make a primary ferment in class. A secondary one will be demonstrated so you can make it at home once your primary has developed. We'll discuss kombucha's fascinating history, troubleshooting, glassware and SCOBYs (provided). This hybrid class will include a microbiology overview and the ferment creation to take home with you. The zoom link, in-person address, and materials list will be shared when you register.
Wednesday, 3/4; 7:00-8:15 p.m.; Zoom; $28

Ferment This: Sauerkraut and Fermented Vegetables
Emma Holder

You'll learn 2 techniques: 1) basic sauerkraut 2) fermented vegetables (radishes, turnips, or carrots; your choice). Technique, troubleshooting, and flavor options. Ferments make excellent gifts, last for months, the vegetable's nutrient content is maintained, while probiotics are boosted. You'll learn about the marvelous microorganisms that surround us, give us "terroir" and keep us healthy by replenishing our microbiomes. This hybrid class will include both microbiology and ferment creation. The zoom link, in-person address, and materials list will be shared when you register.

Join Chef Chris Toy for a hands-on class to master fresh pasta making! We'll infuse the dough with intense, farm-fresh flavors—creating a colorful medley of mushroom, basil, and tomato pasta. You'll finish your creations with a choice of a rich tomato-red wine or a creamy vodka sauce. Get ready to roll, knead, and eat! (Those "in the know" bring containers for leftovers!)
Wednesday, 5/6; 5:00-8:00; WHS 302; $59

Ferment This: Kimchi
Emma Holder

Kimchi is a vegetable ferment associated with Korean cuisine. Almost anything can be kimchi'd but the most common variety involves napa cabbage, other vegetables, garlic, ginger, fish sauce, and mild-to-kick-butt red pepper (Korean gochuchang) or no pepper at all. The resulting funky ferment can be used interchangeably with sauerkraut, or added almost anywhere a dash (or bucketful) of umami is needed. You'll need a blender and this ferment can be messy, so we are all in our own kitchens. Zoom link and materials list provided by instructor upon registration.

Connecting through Creating

"I have one of THE best jobs in the world! WRAE connects local adults with resources, and provides opportunities for them to realize a dream, develop a new skill, explore the world around them and find their voices. Adult education truly changes people's lives and I have been so fortunate to lead and guide that work for over 38 years!"

Tom Nash,
Director, Windham Raymond Adult Ed

Take a Class with a Friend - or come & make some ones!

In 2014, BoomerTECH Adventures was born when three Maine educators, Ed Brazee, Jill Spencer, and Chris Toy, decided to repurpose instead of retiring.

Ed suggested to Jill and Chris that there were 70 million Baby Boomers out there and many of them needed help with their digital lives. Wouldn't it be interesting and fun to find ways to help them!

Jill was a teacher, international consultant, and author of several books on middle-level education. Chris was a middle school principal, international consultant, and author of six fabulous cookbooks. Ed was a professor at the University of Maine, book editor, and consultant.

Reiki I

Kate Green, Baker Mountain Massage

Reiki is a Japanese method of energy work that reduces stress, increases relaxation, and promotes healing. It is believed that the free and balanced flow of Ki (energy) through our chakras and meridians is the cause of health. When these channels are blocked, disease and illness occurs. Reiki helps bring the flow of energy back into balance. In a Reiki I Attunement you will learn the history of Reiki, how to perform a service, and self-care. Includes manual.

Connecting Community-Wide

"I have been honored to be a small part of Windham Raymond Adult Education as a member of the Advisory Committee. As the Windham Economic Development Director,

I am so pleased to see how many area residents have improved their skills through WRAE programs and prepared themselves for the everchanging workforce challenges of today and into the future. Every June I am inspired as WRAE graduates share their stories of struggles and triumphs as they attain the first of many 'lifelong learning' achievements."

Tom Bartell
